Professional Learning and Teacher Standards

The King's School continued to focus on delivering quality professional learning to its teaching community and driving their ongoing attention to the AITSL Professional Standards in 2021. The ongoing worldwide COVID-19 pandemic continued to disrupt our conventional approaches to providing professional learning across our three campuses. Furthermore, lack of clarity around the delivery of NESA Accredited Professional Learning by the School forced alternate professional learning streams to be considered.

We saw an influx of teachers and staff attending online professional learning events and undertaking higher study in Australian universities. The King's School also hosted its 7th biennial National Boys Education Conference which was attended by nearly 400 teachers (both in-person and virtually) across five Australian states and territories.

The 2021 King's School Institute Professional Learning Journal documents contributions from over 30 staff of shared learning experiences. King's staff also published over 20 peer-reviewed publications during the 2021 school year.

We also had many teachers that contributed to the many focused professional learning communities throughout the school, whether they be in departments, across departments or as a whole School community across all three campuses.

Across the School in 2021, seven teachers gained Proficient Teacher Accreditation during the course of the year. The Professional Practice and Accreditation Leader and their relevant Head of Department (Senior School staff) or Deputy Head - Academics (Preparatory School) supported teachers undergoing their Proficient Teacher Accreditation.
